

Cambridge April 3^d. 1778

Sir

I have two or three private letters as I told you I should, which I am now writing - I shall be much obliged to you if you will authorize Major Pollard to read and then seal them and for him to give them to Genl Burgoyne when he quits him, by which means all possibility of any such papers being put among them will be avoided - I am sorry it was not in my power to wait on you at dinner, but I will hope to see you here some time hence.
I am indeed Boston does not look on me as so deep a Politician as my friend Briggs and there will not be any danger in conversing with me. I have but one wish in my present situation that there may be perfect quiet and no squabbling between the Groups of the Convention and the Massachusetts Bay, I have no doubt but that both you and I shall do our utmost to prevent it.

I am, with much personal regard your most humble servant

W Phillips
